

What is Rock and Roll Bingo?

Rock and Roll Bingo is bingo, but not as you know it! The numbers have been replaced with the names of singers and bands, and the caller has been replaced with rapid-fire song clips. Players must identify the artists on their bingo card to win!

Will I need a bingo license?

In Missouri, Rock and Roll Bingo does not meet the state's definition of bingo, so no license is required. However, in Illinois, your organization must be able to obtain a "Limited" bingo license from the state.

What is included in the package price?

Our Rock and Roll Bingo package includes an emcee, professional sound system, 12 complete games, and 2400 unique bingo cards (enough for 200 people). The package also includes early arrival and equipment set-up, and a planning meeting to discuss all the details of your event.

What if I need more bingo cards?

Additional bingo card packets are available in bundles of 20. Selling additional bingo card packets to your players is an excellent way to increase your event's profitability!

What do I need to provide?

Your organization must provide prizes for the winners of each game. Small items, such as gift cards, make great bingo prizes! Remember, some games could have more than one winner, so please plan accordingly.

Does Rock and Roll Bingo only play rock and roll?

No! Every game of Rock and Roll Bingo features a wide variety of musical genres, including classic rock, oldies, disco, country and hip-hop. Your guests will hear everything from Frank Sinatra to Taylor Swift!

When will the emcee set-up and test his equipment?

The emcee will arrive at the venue at least one hour before your guests arrive to set-up and test the equipment.

Where should I have the emcee set-up?

The emcee should be set-up directly at the front of the room, so he can be seen as well as heard by all of your guests. For safety reasons, tables for auctions and raffles should be placed in another part of the room.

Will the emcee do more than just host bingo?

Besides entertaining your guests, we will help coordinate your event to ensure everything goes smoothly. For example, we will organize any special events such as raffles, auctions and attendance prize drawings.
